o The uncertainty in Snowmass will prevail at least until the upcoming mid-Nov. foreclosure sale of Snowmass Base Village , the stalled re-development project whose uncertain future has created a cloud over the entire resort. The foreclosure sale - if it happens and is not delayed - should in theory end this sad chapter of the 1/3 to 1/2 completed build-out of the new Base Village and begin a new one. A new owner or new ownership plan would seem to create a net positive for the resort in that it should add a measure of certainty to the future or at least a sense of a way forward. Given the slowly improving real estate sales figures for 2010 YTD, it appears the Snowmass market generally bottomed at some point in 2009.

o There have been some notable higher priced Snowmass sales of ski-in-out homes in The Pines and Two Creek areas specifically. ..8 sales since 01/01/09 at an average sold price $1,504 per sq ft ...these areas offer relatively larger Snowmass homes with unmatched ski access ideal for family gathering properties.

Vacant Land Sales

o Vacant land is finally selling albeit generally at price points 30-50% off the market peak although there are exceptions for unique and singularly located properties.

o In 3Q10 alone, there were (8) lot sales, up from (1) in Q210 (+ 700%!) and (2) in the prior year quarter. In early Nov., two West End single family lots just closed at $2MM each, reduced from their $3.75MM original price and 738 days on the market since 10/21/2008.

o Vacant land sales, while still not much to speak of, are up 50% in transactions from 8 in 2009 YTD to 12 in 2010 YTD.

o The word on the street is that when land starts to sell, it's a good indicator of a market bottom.

Woody Creek

Woody Creek represents a more rural, laid back alternative to the more glamorous side of Aspen life. There has been little activity here as buyers have been able to buy closer to Aspen at more reduced prices.

Snowmass Village

SMV Base area is awaiting foreclosure proceedings in mid-Nov., consequently general uncertainty prevails. But... Snowmass single family home sales have picked up especially in $2M-6M range: there were (3) in 2009 YTD and (14) so far 2010 YTD, an increase of +367% in homes sold and an increase from $5.3M dollar volume in 2009 YTD to $53.1M in 2010 YTD, +1,000% in this price range.

Aspen

Single family homes remain the strongest class of Aspen's total sales dollar volume, at 73% in 3Q10 and 79% in 3Q09. Aspen condo sales for 3Q10 increased +18% in unit sales and +42% in dollar volume over 3Q09

Increase in 'Mid-point' $4-8MM Aspen Home sales

Sales in the $4-$8M single family home category increased the most of all price categories with a +44% increase in units sold to (23) in 2010 YTD from (16) in 2009 YTD. In the over $10MM price range, there were (7) sales in 2010 YTD versus (6) in 2009 YTD.

While the gap between sold and original list price remains considerable, approximately -20 to -30% depending on property type, the % sold price to ask price ratio is remaining fairly constant between 88-90% of ask. Unlike 1-2 years ago when it was unclear how properties should be priced due to a lack of sales, there is more sufficient sales data this year - post crisis - from which sellers can make better informed pricing decisions. Consequently, many sellers - not all - are pricing more realistically, and it is likely over time that the distance between original list price and sold price will continue to narrow.
